

Katherine Adlam

Having lived in many regions of New Zealand utilising health services as a consumer, Katherine currently resides in the Buller area.

While studying extramurally, Katherine enjoys interaction with health consumers and also enjoys the challenges and prospect of the new health facilities planned for the West Coast.

Being a member of the Consumer Council gives the opportunities to ensure that information between Consumers and the DHB is able to happen and that it is seen to be done.