

Mark Davies

Mark has worked as a caregiver at a rest home; a community policeman; a fieldworker for Supporting Families living with a mental illness (+ committee member); in social work/counselling for Rata Te Awhina Trust; in welfare support for veterans affected by conflict both in the UK & NZ Defence force, having been badly injured himself in a war.

His other interests include, tramping, music, swimming, British humour DVD's, family life, and being a member of the NZ Red Cross emergency response welfare team, having passed a Diploma in Trauma management.

He has experienced being a consumer living with a mental illness (depression), and has had family members living with mental illness and alcohol addiction, now in good recovery.

He presently works as a mentor for children at Child Youth & Family (CYF) and is dedicated to improving all consumer care using the WCDHB services.